Cities Renew Battle Against Relief Fund Matching

SEE SENATE'S PLAN AS BREAK IN OPPOSITION

Leaders of Fight Cheered by Proposal to Give Credit for Hospital Expense.

(By Associated Press)

COLUMBUS — Spokesmen for Ohio's major cities resumed today their fight for elimination of local matching against state poor relief grants—encouraged by the first sign of a break in the previously solid opposition to their demands.

Municipalities' representatives were heartened by two developments in the senate taxation committee hearing on an emergency measure appropriating $5,000,000 for immediate needs:

1. A proposal by Senate Majority Leader Frank E. Whittemore that local expense for hospitalization of the needy be counted as matching state grants; and

2. Apparent favor of committee members toward a suggested amendment to permit "waiving" the matching requirement for 90 days provided the favored counties made up local amounts later in the year.

Answers Contentions.

Both proposals were offered as answers to cities' contentions that they could not benefit from the emergency appropriation because they have no funds for the dollar-for-dollar local matching required by the bill.

Neither suggestion, sponsors explained, would solve the local communities' basic problem of raising additional funds for relief expenses.

Mayors and finance officers of Cleveland, Cincinnati, Columbus, Dayton, Toledo and Springfield explained their financial plights to the committee in a prolonged session last year, describing mounting relief loads and deficits aggravated by declining tax revenues and new demands on general operating funds.

Declaring themselves ready to share the cost of poor relief, the municipalities unanimously declared the present bill was virtually useless to them because of the matching requirement and that the administration program would not provide needed funds.

The administration plan — repealing restrictions on special local funds and thereby easing the strain on general operating funds —was generally criticized by municipal spokesmen as inadequate because it would not raise any additional revenue.

The hearing developed several spirited exchanges between city representatives and two legislators who frequently speak for Gov. John W. Bricker—Rep. J. Harry McGreggor (R-Coshocton), house majority floor leader, and Sen. Lawrence A. Kane (R-Hamilton), chairman of the senate taxation committee.

The appearfance of Miss Anderson on the 1938-39 program of the Civic Music association is one of the city's outstanding musical events in many years. Not since Galli Curci appeared here years ago has there been a singer of such world famous reputation in Mansfield.

Up and Down THE STREET

When life-time passes are presented at the Mansfield Warner Brothers theaters from now on they will be scrutinized by doormen to see if they bear the names Hoover, Wallace or Garner. William Dworski, Warner manager in Mansfield, has been notified by his company to look at all gold life-time passes that are presented here as those belonging to G-Man J. Edgar Hoover, Vice-President Garner and Secretary of Agriculture Wallace have been stolen and as they are good at any time and any place in America where there are Warner theaters, a "general alarm" has been sent out for them. A few Mansfielders possess the gold passes to Warner theaters, notably members of the Memorial building board of trustees.

A relic of Mansfield's horse-and-buggy days turned up this week when an ancient two-seated sleigh made by the now extinct Mansfield Buggy company was acquired by R. B. Gardner. The sleigh, which had stood out in the county for years, is a sample of the best type made in those days. All of the iron was hand hammered. On the back of it was a copper plate, with the name of the cmpany scratched by hand. The Mansfield Buggy company operated between 40 and 50 years ago in buildings that are now a part of the Mansfield Tire and Rubber company. The upholstering, the shaves and the curved dashboard had to be replaced, but after a coat of green paint with gold trimming, the old-timer looks like new.

Miss Esther Snyder, city hall telephone operator, today had all of the pride of housewife in new household furnishing, for she presided at a new office desk which was made by the furniture department of the Ohio State Reformatory and which the city purchased for $42. It was moved into the office last night and replaces the old desk that has been in use for 14 years.

Something new in parties is being planned for members of the Senior Luther league of the First Lutheran church, for next Monday evening in the church assembly room. The event will be "Jolly, popping, stuckup old fashioned party." Just what type of a social it will be is a mystery to the members, but every word in the title stands for some particular feature, the committee says.

JURIST FACES 4-WAY INQUIRY

Federal, State Investigations Pushed Into Affairs of Resigned N. Y. Judge.

(By Associated Press)

NEW YORK—Two federal and two state inquiries were pushed today into the involved business affairs of Martin T. Manton, resigned senior judge of the U. S. circuit court of appeals.

The investigations were undertaken by the U. S. department of justice, U. S. District Attorney Gregory F. Noonan, the state tax department and District Attorney Thomas E. Dewey.

The 58-year-old, white-haired jurist—youngest federal judge in the nation when he was appointed to the bench in 1916 after a brilliant law career—gave up his post yesterday while categorically denying charges that he had accepted more than $400,000 in loans from persons interested in affairs before his court.

In a statement announcing his resignation, Judge Manton said he preferred to step down rather than become "the central figure in a controversy" which might "weaken public confidence in the administration of justice."

In a letter to President Roosevelt, the $12,500-a-year judge, highest ranking jurist next to the nine supreme court justices, asked to be relieved of his duties not later than March 1.

Asked a question concerning books of one corporation, the judge responded grimly:

"You ask Dewey. He wants the publicity."

BRICKER TELLS KANSAS G. O. P. VICTORY PROTEST OF FARMERS

(By Associated Press)

TOPEKA, Kas.—Gov. John W. Bricker of Ohio interprets Republican victories in last fall's elections as a protest from the American farmer against federal regulation and a demand from the people that "partisan politics be taken out of relief."

The Buckeye state's handsome executive, addressing the annual G. O. P. Kansas day banquet, discussed last night what he called "deductions from the last election."

He said that once the electorate becomes aware of the "danger of the present trends" in government, those trends will be stopped.

"When the American people in unmistakable language demand economy, economy will come," Bricker said. "This government is ours. The debt is ours. We must pay for it.

"After all, we are entitled not alone to the kind of government we want, but the kind of government we are willing to work to get."

Newspapermen sought to question Bricker concerning mentions of him as a 1940 Republican presidential nominee, but the governor declined to reply.

If the Republican party "keeps faith with the people," National Chairman John D. M. Hamilton told the diners, "we're going to sweep this nation from stem to stern in 1940."

Bricker also said that the foreign policy of the United States should be one of "attending to our own business."

"We should not meddle in the affairs of the other nations of the world," he declared, "and should say in no unmistakable terms to them, 'keep out of our affairs.'

"The greedy aggressor nations of the world are at the throats of their neighbors. The American people are entitled to know the attitude of the government in foreign affairs."

DIES AT AGE 70

M. S. McMeeken Was One of First Hired by Westinghouse.

Milo Simpson McMeeken, 70, one of the first employes of the Westinghouse Electrical Manufacturing company in Mansfield, died at his home today on King road, two miles south of Ashland, after a brief illness.

Mr. McMeeken became associated with Westinghouse when the Mansfield factory was opened in 1918 and remained in the employ of the company until 1933 when he retired.

Born in Franklin township, July 22, 1868, he spent the greater part of his life in this vicinity. He was a teacher in rural public schools in this vicinity for many years and later conducted a carpenter contracting and lumber business.

Surviving are his wife, Grace; a daughter, Mrs. Marshall Troup of Mansfield, and two brothers, S. T. McMeeken of Butler, and Rev. Roscoe McMeeken of Bellevue. He was a member of the First M. E. church.

Funeral services will be held at the home at 10 a. m. Thursday and at the Finefrock funeral home at 2 p. m., with Rev. Earl A. Brown of Kent, assisted by Rev. Edwin C. Corwin of the First M. E. church, officiating. Burial will be in Mansfield cemetery.

PLANE PLUNGES

Crashes Into Bering Sea; Identity Of Craft Uncertain.

SEATTLE, Wash. — (INS) — An airplane crashed in the Bering sea off Kotzebue, Alaska, north of Nome, but coastguard headquarters in Seattle expressed doubt today that it was a naval plane as reported by an amateur operator at San Jose, Cal.

The Dutch harbor station confirmed the report of a crash off Kotzebue but indicated it probably was a privately-owned plane.

LAWMAKER SAYS U. S. INSISTING ON AMENDMENTS

But Labor Committee's Head Says He'll Oppose Changes That Would Interfere.

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON — A confident prediction that congress would revise the Wagner labor relations act came today from Senator Burke (D.-Neb.) as the senate labor committee took up modifications proposed by Senator Walsh (D.-Mass.).

"I think the country is in a frame of mind to insist upon amendments this session," said Burke, frequent critic of the act and the board that administers it.

Chairman Thomas (D.-Utah) of the labor committee, on the other hand, announced opposition to any amendments "that will interfere with the proper workings of the law."

With the senate in recess and the house marking time, the day's activities on Capitol Hill were concentrated in committees.

Study Transportation Ills.

The house interstate commerce committee resumed a study of general transportation legislation, while the ways and means committee was considering President Roosevelt's reciprocal tax proposals.

A subcommittee brought before the house judiciary committee its suggestions for handling impeachment charges brought against Secretary Perkins by Rep. Thomas (R.-N. J.). The suggestions were not disclosed before the meeting.

House leaders having cleared the way, the rules committee studied a measure to continue the Dies committee which investigated un-American activities.

The house naval committee, on the insistence of Republican members, called Charles Edison, assistant secretary of the navy, to explain how far the government plans to go toward fortifying Guam.

The house and senate military committees also were busy with military aviation problems. The senate committee had a discussion yesterday with G. Grant Mason of the civil aeronautics authority in which Mason was reported to have said that:

1. The United States is far behind Germany in military aviation research, and that this country should catch up.

2. The United States failed to increase airplane sales to Latin America last year, while Germany and Italy trebled theirs.

The senate labor committee was getting into one of the major problems facing this session of congress. The Walsh amendments were those sponsored by the AFL, which has criticized labor board decisions as being partial to the CIO.

FAIR ENOUGH!

Congress, Courts Place Own Interpretations On Income Tax, Who Pays

—By WESTBROOK PEGLER

NEW YORK—The income-tax amendment is short and wide. It just says that congress shall have power to lay and collect taxes on incomes, from whatever source derived, without apportionment among the several states and without regard to any census or enumeration.

It says nothing about rates of tax or exemptions, nothing about deductions or expenses incurred in the acquirement of the income, nothing about gross or net or any fine distinction between capital and income or the subtraction from the gross of amounts paid as taxes in other ways.

It says nothing about immunity for public employes of the states and their subdivisions, or for labor unions or religious or charitable organizations. The amendment left all such matters to the conscience and mood of congress in the future, and it must be admitted that, in some ways, congress has done quite the handsome thing up to now. The courts also have done their bit.

A city man gets an exemption for himself and wife, if any; children, if any, and other dependent relatives, if any, and a farmer may also charge off the cost of supporting his cow, provided she is a professional cow, producing milk, butter and, occasionally, veal, which, being sold, produces income. He may even deduct the cost of a veterinary to attend his cow in her hour, although the cost of medical care for his wife, in hers, is not deductible.

If the horse that pulls his plow comes down of a misery, he may charge off medical advice and care and liniment, although if he himself comes down of a crick from pushing the plow and needs a doctor and a bottle of No. 97 or No. 38, that expense is not deductible. He may charge off wear and tear on the cow and horse, but not wear and tear on himself.

The exceptions, exemptions and immunities provided by congress in an effort to be nice, although armed with a devastating authority of tax, are, on the whole, a beautiful exhibition of restraint, adorned by many amusing and cheering oddities.

All that the constitution says about freedom of religion is this: "Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion or prohibiting the free exercise thereof." It doesn't say that religious organizations must be immune from the theory behind chain store taxation applying to concerns operating interstate.

And the income-tax amendment doesn't say that congress must permit those who contribute to religious organizations to deduct such gifts or any proportion of them from their income. The religious freedom article doesn't even mention the subject of immunity from property taxes for religious organization, and, of course, labor unions or pools of wealth were, unheard of at that time.

In fact, in the paragraph of the Revenue Act providing exemption for religious organizations, congress bared a fang in 1936 and a phrase was inserted to provide that such organizations could not enjoy the exemption if a "substantial part" of their activities consisted of carrying on propaganda or otherwise attempting to influence legislation.

Labor unions, however, are not placed under any such limitation, and a union under Communistic domination may attempt to influence legislation without risk, whereas, nominally, at least, a church invites the wrath of the internal revenue for attempting to exert a counter-influence.

There is almost no limit to the tricks that playful congress could do with the income-tax authority, and if the subjects were really smart they wouldn't say a word for fear of riling the statesmen and reminding them of their strength.

Hollywood Speaks---

—By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD—The smartest picture of recent months—from the point of view of financial astuteness—is "The Dawn Patrol."

It is one of the season's hits, already bettering the business done by the same company's "Robin Hood" last year, and yet, as such things go, it is a Quickie.

Artistically I rate it high, and it has about a million and a half dollars' worth of "production value" in air thrills and authenticity. But the present version — thanks to some four reels of stuff salvaged from the original Richard Barthelmess vehicle of 1930—cost about half a million to film. Because for the present version not a plane had to leave the ground, and not a stunt flier had to be used. And this in a picture of aerial thrills.

The two gigantic bombing sequences, the great flight of Errol Flynn to his death — both these were taken with the rest from the first "Dawn Patrol" and cleverly blended with the new dramatic action on the ground.

Not even the entire cast was new, at that. Important in the story is Von Richter, the German ace. He is unidentified in the present cast, and after inquiry around I still don't know what now unknown actor played the role and is enjoying a "revival" Howard Hawks, who directed the first "Dawn Patrol," can't recall either.

Hawks, by coincidence, again is involved in aerial drama. I found him on a double-sized stage at Columbia, directing one tentatively titled "Plane No. 4," the cast including—also by coincidence—the same Barthelmess who was his star nine years ago. Barthelmess's role here is a "character"—the stars of today are Jean Arthur and Cary Grant.

The sound stage of "Plane No. 4" is a match, or continuation, for a huge outdoor set representing a South American seaport, erected at the studio ranch in Burbank. It's one of the most elaborate "interior and exterior" combinations of the sort yet devised, and thanks to a huge cyclorama it brings the snow-capped Andes under roof. Also under roof is a ramshackle native tavern—run in the script by a Dutchman who looks, under his whiskers, like Sig Rumann—several native shacks, and an entire forest of jungle vegetation and flowers.

Dallying there briefly, I was privileged to see and hear a most remarkable impromptu orchestra (impromptu, heck! it's all in the script) fiddling and banging away. At the piano sat Maestro Grant, who actually tickles the keys meanly but to no avail as all the piano-playing has to be done off-stage for the mike's sake. Behind stood handsome John Carroll, the singer.

Into this hot melee of "Some of These Days" strolled cool-looking Jean Arthur (I guessed she was the girl who got stranded there, but you'll have to wait and see) and made Cary move over while she showed him how. Alas, Jean's playing was as silent as Cary's—but just as good to look at.

In a little while everybody was going to get all wet. This is a fog-wind-rain epic, as well as aerial. But I couldn't wait to report on that. Catch cold too easily. Besides—what are Grant, Arthur, Barthelmess et als getting paids for? I should share their troubles and not their paychecks!

Signs Whitey For Mephisto

Nolan to Stage Title Match at Armory Friday.

The Great Mephisto signed today for a return match with Whitey Wahlberg, popular Swedish wrestler, who believes he has developed a successful counter to the Great One's pile-driver hold Defending his title for the second time since defeating Billy Weidner in Columbus, Mephisto will meet Wahlberg at the armory Friday night.

Mephisto already holds one victory over Wahlberg here. It came a few weeks ago and the Swede was out for 20 minutes after he fell victim to the pile-driver. "That taught me a lesson," says Wahlberg, "and I decided to develop a bar for the hold before demanding a return match. I've perfected it now and Mephisto will never hook me with the pile-driver again."

Two other bouts will be on the card, which is slated for action in the Armory on Friday night. The Quality Club today signed Walter Stratton of Letonia, Ohio, to appear in the semi-final. His opponent has yet to be selected.

Scores 12 Baskets to Set New Season Record.

Lee Morehead established a new individual season scoring record in the Grade school basketball league at the Senior high school yesterday when he contributed 24 points to the first-place Bowman team's 30 to 6 victory over Prospect.

The Bowman school star forward collected 12 baskets in the tilt in which the Prospectors failed to gain a single point in the second half.

Junior Brooks of Bushnell also went on a scoring spree yesterday as he counted 18 points as he led his teammates to a 24 to 10 victory over Newman.

In the other games, Western defeated Carpenter, 11 to 2; West Fifth, paced by Miller's 12 points, won over Hedges, 26 to 8, and Brinkerhoff trimmed Woodland, 14 to 11.

Scores Record 279 Game in 692 Series

Art Hilborn Again Wrecks Uprights as Optimists Set Scoring Pace In Club League With 2893.

ART HILBORN shoved off on another record-breaking spree last night when he established a new single game mark of 279 in the Club league. Hilborn marked up the nifty score in his middle game as he wrecked the uprights for a 692 series.

Rolling with the Optimists, Hilborn started off with a 189, then came the record game and a closing 224 for the 692, the third high total of the campaign.

Shafer contributed a 623 as the Optimists came through with a high 2893 and three wins over the American Legion, led by Pete Grohol's flashy 266 and 605. Counting the handicap, the Optimists had a 3112. The Legionnaires were second high in the team scoring with a 2833.

The defeat of the Legionnaires enabled the Schoolmasters to lengthen their lead to three full games. The Schoolmasters swept their series with the Baku Grotto.

In the other matches, the Liederkranz club, sporting a 2707, dropped three decisions to the Kiwanians, the J. A. C. club took three from the Commercial Managers, the Page Dairys added three wins at the expense of the Tracy & Avery club and Mansfield Athletic club won a pair of tilts from the Mansfield Savings Bank.

The Club league race is so tight that only six games separate the Schoolmasters from the ninth-place Kiwanians.

Plant Cagers Tie for Title

Hand Yuncker Team First Defeat By 26 to 21 Count; Elks Lodge Defeats Hi-Speeds, 42 to 36.

By CHARLES MARTIN

A TEAM which last fall was labeled as the "weak sister" in the City Class A basketball league campaign scored a stunning upset victory in the final game of the second round championship race on the Mansfield high hardwood last night.

That team is the Westinghouse Electric quintet, and it amazed City league followers by dusting off the heretofore undefeated Yuncker Sports, 26 to 21, in a thrilling affair to annex a share of the title and halt its vanquished foes' spectacular 14-game winning streak. Earl Herrick's Hi-Speeds saw their chances of copping a slice of the crown slip away as they bowed to an inspired Elks Lodge outfit, 42 to 36, in the curtain raiser.

By virtue of their impressive triumph, the Electrics automatically win a place along with the Sports in the playoffs at the end of the season for the City league title.

Electrics 'Underdogs.'

Pilot George Percy's fast-improving combine opened the race without the services of several veteran stars, and its chances of playing an important part in deciding the championship were not promising. But Percy stuck by the squad and his faith paid dividends last night.

The Electrics entered the important tussle as underdogs, but from the opening gun they employed a fast-breaking attack that had the favored Sports on their heels to the finish.

Manager Jimmy Breres' high-scoring machine, however, encountered trouble all the way in locating the basket. A number of their shots in the second half hit the hoop, but wouldn't go in. It marked the first time this season the Sports have been unable to score at least 25 points.

A portion of the defending champions' inability to part the nets must be credited to the sterling defensive play of the Westinghouse basketeers. Not once during the opening half did they allow the Sports to take any "set" shots. And the Westies' rushing tactics continually hampered the Sports' usually effective attack.

Although they were handicapped by the Sports' height advantage, the Electrics more than held their own beneath the baskets. Numerous times they came up with the ball to halt the Sports' under-the-basket work.

The Sports fought a nip-and-tuck battle with the Westies through the opening period and a part of the second before the latter jumped into a lead they never relinquished.

The plant club went ahead, 10 to 6, in the initial frame, held a 19 to 14 advantage at the intermission, and went into the final period leading by a 22 to 16 count. Percy's team stopped the Sports cold from the field in the third.

Bob Shade, who caught the Sports napping twice in the opening half to dump in easy shots, set the individual tempo with 10 points, with Howard Poole, whose brilliant floor work was a feature of the game, contributed eight. LaVerne Gray paced the losers with eight points.

The Elks, playing their second contest in which the first string was available for duty, went on a scoring spree against the Hi-Speeds to mark up a new season team scoring record.

Led by Orville Kibler, Ontario high coach, who was high-point man for the evening with 15 points, the Lodgemen staged a thrilling last-period rally to halt the Hi-Speeds.

The two clubs battled through a 10-all deadlock in the first frame, and then the Elks raced ahead, 20 to 18, at halftime. That advantage seemed to send the Hi-Speeds on a basket hunting expedition, and they marched into a 31 to 27 lead as the clubs resumed play in the fourth chapter.

Elks Stage Rally.

But the Elks were not to be denied, and with the count standing 32 to 30 against them, they suddenly let loose a bombardment that boosted them into a 38 to 32 lead. Herrick's outfit cut the advantage to a 38-36 count with two minutes to go, but the Lodge team sewed it up with a pair of long shots.

Tom Farrell added 11 points to Elks total, and Gene Zediker collected 10 points. Farrell's five goals and a free throw gave him 57 points in the league individual scoring race, four more than Shade, whose 10 markers raised his season total to 53.

STOCK LEADERS LIFTED DURING HEAVY SESSION

Deals of 2,000 to 6,000 Shares Registered in Upswing Following Hitler's Talk.

(By Associated Press)

NEW YORK — Heavy buying came into the stock market in today's session, lifting leaders fractions to more than two points.

Brokers said strength of all European securities markets, following the milder than expected Hitler speech, tended to buoy sentiment here.

Deals of 2,000 to 6,000 shares were registered for U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, General Motors, Chrysler, N. Y. Central and Curtiss-Wright.

Bonds and most commodities followed stocks on the upswing.

Scanning domestic items for market clues, notice was taken of recommendations submitted to congress by the federal reserve board of governors aimed to iron out what was said to be major defects in the nation's banking system.

The federal reserve system estimated debits to individual accounts, as reported by banks in leading cities for the week ended Jan. 25, aggregated $7,512,000,000 or 10 per cent below the aggregate in the preceding week, but one per cent above the figure at the same time last year.

cial interests in other countries, including the United States for war propaganda. He criticized among others Secretary Ickes of the United States.

He pledged Germany to pursue with increasing energy a place in world trade to meet the "uttermost need a nation can meet, namely, the need for its daily bread."

Emphasizing that business relations with South and Central America "concern nobody but them and ourselves" he charged that relations with the United States were "suffering from a campaign of defamation" by unfriendly interests on the "pretense that Germany threatens American independence and freedom."

"Not One Word of Truth."

"We all believe, however," the chancellor added, "that this does not reflect the will of the millions of American citizens who, despite all that is said to the contrary by a gigantic Jewish-capitalistic propaganda through the press, the radio and the films, cannot fail to realize that there is not one word of truth in all these assertions."

The Jewish question, Hitler continued, should be solved and "the sooner the better," for Europe "cannot settle down until the Jewish question is cleaned up."

Should "international Jewish financiers," he prophesied, "succeed in plunging the nations once more into a world war, then the result will not be the bolshevization of the earth, and thus the victory of Jewery, but the annihilation of the Jewish race in Europe."

Hitler said the colonies were taken after the war despite the promises of President Wilson upon which Germany sued for peace.

"Have Same Right."

"The German people," he declared, "has exactly the same right as any other people to share in the opening up and development of the world."

And:

"A nation of 80 millions will not be willing permanently to be assessed differently from other nations. . . ."

If Germany had any concrete plans for Spain, he said nothing about them, avowing it was "anxiety for European culture" which compelled Germany to take sides in Spain against the bolshevist destroyers. . . ."

Special mention went to Japan as champion of the anti-Comintern pact: A nation which "in the last two years has set us so many examples of glorious heroism, is undoubtedly fighting in the service of civilization at the other side of the world."

last fall," Wells said.

"The industrial upturn, the large number of the county's WPA workers who are unable to qualify for beenfits along with the fact that some persons are not thoroughly familiar with the eligibility requirements have accounted for only 950 applications here."

The estimated number of unemployed in the Mansfield district last fall was 2,000.

Wells explained that in order to qualify for benefits applicants must have worked 20 weeks of 1938 and this provision eliminated a great number of the WPA workers.

There has been considerable misunderstanding on the part of eligible persons, Wells said.

"Some people are under the impression that if they were discharged or left their jobs voluntarily instead of being laid off that they are ineligible for the insurance," he added.

"This is not true as such persons are only penalized three payments for a one-year period. In other words they can receive 13 payments instead of 16. Weekly payments consist of 50 per cent of the average weekly wage earned by the applicant in 1938."

Court Clerk's Dismissal Sets Off G. O. P. Job Alloting; Hardy, Goodenough Named.

end, an investigator for the office, was recently dismissed in the state administration's economy program.

Removal of Conley, a Democrat, appeared nearer today when Thomas W. McCaw, chief of the state division of aid for the aged, announced the dismissal of 15 more employes in an economy drive that brought 700 discharges yesterday.

Among those removed were W. B. Francis, Martins Ferry, former member of the state civil service commission, who has been a pensioner supervisor at $300 a month; R. Frank Thomas, of Youngstown, former state purchasing agent who was an auditor at $250 a month, and Mrs. Helen Truax, widow of former congressman-at-large Charles Truax.

Endorses 5 Others.

The Republican executive committee made five other endorsements last night for state jobs, including T. R. Barnes, treasurer of the committee, for a post on the state parole board, or the industrial commission.

John C. Friday, of Springfield township, former county commissioner, was endorsed for an investigator's post in the office of the state real estate board at Columbus.

The committee approved Harry A. Albrecht, Mansfield, for a clerical job with the state purchasing department; D. S. Ireland, Mansfield insurance agent, for a clerical post in the state insurance department, and R. P. Barthalow, Columbus, for the state tax commission.

Crippled Cycle Slows Up Traffic Campaign Again

The week-old traffic enforcement campaign which has been creating an unusual amount of parking space in the business district, ran into another snag today when mechanical difficulties halted the police "cycle" patrol.

The five-year-old motorcycle with more than 10,000 miles to its credit, was in the police garage today with what Patrolman C. W. Kyler, who has operated the machine, said was clutch trouble. The cycle will be laid up until new clutch plates are installed.

Meanwhile records at police headquarters showed that the collection of traffic fines at the end of the first eight days of the campaign hit $126 when 21 persons appeared at the station to pay the $1 assessment for parking violations. This total is eight more than was collected during the month of December and more than double the collection for November.

Roosevelt Urges Nation To Fight Paralysis To End

WASHINGTON — (U.P.) — President Roosevelt brought to a close today the annual campaign for funds to fight infantile paralysis with a plea for concerted action to stamp out the disease.

Celebrating his 57th birthday, which he said was "only an incident" coinciding with the drive, the president addressed millions of dancers at 25,000 birthday balls by radio last night.

He urged co-operation of every state and county, every city and town, every hamlet and cross roads community in the battle to wipe out the disease that crippled him and threatened his life nearly 14 years ago.

"Only by such co-operation," he said, "has tuberculosis been brought under control in our lifetime. Only by the same concerted action will the scourge of infantile paralysis be stamped out."

In contrast to the seven balls at hotels in the capital and the millions of celebrants elsewhere, Mr. Roosevelt himself celebrated the day quietly.

Mrs. Roosevelt, however, led the local celebration by accompanying a group of Hollywood movie stars at appearances at the seven local balls.

BLIZZARD SKIPS CITY, RACES EAST

Defiance county schools closed by six-inch drifts on highways; towns of Gilboa, Ottawa, Benton Ridge, McComb, Hoytville and Pandora without electric power as high tension wires froze together, causing short circuit of Ohio Power company lines; telephone service in Deshler area disrupted; power off for an hour in 500 Lorain homes as sleet broke down power lines; 150 telephone poles down in Bellevue; southern Ohio cities, including river cities of Portsmouth and Cincinnati, reported streams rising.

NEW YORK—Four-inch snow fall over most of state, with temperatures near zero; two dozen children rescued from school bus stalled in four-foot drift near Virgil, N. Y.: high winds and snow in New York city, which was expected to escape worst of blizzard.

NEW ENGLAND — Forty-two mile gale over most of New England, with 60-mile gale reported in Boston harbor; numerous small communities reported isolated; storm warnings along the entire Atlantic coast. One freighter was forced to drop anchor in Boston harbor when unable to reach its pier and a passenger ship hove-to off Boston lightship rather than chance a risky passage through the channel. Commercial airlines canceled flights in advance of the storm and found after it had passed that many airports were so deeply covered with snow that it would take hours to dig them clear enough for landing purposes.

Rail transportation was slowed down at terminals where switches froze faster than they could be thawed out. Highway travel was virtually non-existant and even in the cities only the main arteries were open.

now at home, will be permitted to return soon to their posts.

Although Hitler said "Germany wishes to live in peace and on friendly terms with all countries, including America," students of international affairs noted these four references which he made directly or indirectly to the United States:

1. That the present relations between the two nations suffered from a campaign of defamation conducted in this country "to serve obvious political and financial interests."

2. That "in certain democracies it is apparently one of the special prerogatives of political democratic life to cultivate an artificial hatred of the so-called totalitarian states."

3. That Germany's economic relations with Latin-America are her own business and not that of the United States.

4. That certain persons like Secretary of Interior Ickes are "apostles of war."

Hitler's mention of Ickes recalled the state department's recent refusal to entertain a German protest against a speech by Ickes criticizing dictatorships.
